

BRANCH to hope

A Movement of Color and Change

We've been on quite a journey at Branch to Hope, and now, we're standing at the edge of something extraordinary. A revival of change is stirring, one that begins with the simplest of habits and spreads like wildfire through hearts ready to live more intentionally.

When each of us shares how New Habits Create Change and begins noticing the colors throughout our day that remind us to live in the character of Jesus, something beautiful happens—it becomes contagious. Together, we're igniting a wave across our nation to heal our land, one color, one moment, and one heart at a time.

And here's the best part, every time you share and inspire others, blessings begin to flow right back to you. We want to honor and bless those who help spread the awareness that weaving the Fruit of the Spirit into our daily lives can transform not only our hearts but the very atmosphere around us.

By joining our Branch to Hope Ambassador Effort through the QR code here, you'll discover a simple tutorial that walks you through a few easy steps. From there, our system will automatically begin tracking your referrals in real time, sending your blessings directly to you each time someone acquires even one bracelet box through a conversation you've sparked at the grocery store, a restaurant, or a truckload for your church or missionary team.

You'll literally be able to watch your discipleship impact, and your blessings, grow before your eyes!

This is far more than an affiliate opportunity. It's a lifestyle rhythm of generosity that gives back as you give forward. It's about living in step with the Spirit and sharing the gospel in a tangible, colorful way that makes Heaven crowded.

Thank you for prayerfully considering how your simple, everyday moments can add up to millions of transformed lives. Together, let's keep shining Jesus' character through color, one bracelet, one conversation, one heart at a time.

With heartfelt gratitude,
